fresh looks for fall

WANDER LUST

Visions of “the good life” prove the ultimate form of escapism, from Palm Beach and New York to Britain and France

FUN & FLAMBOYANT

Greg Natale, a native Australian, is known for his signature interplay of pattern and design, and The Patterned Interior (Rizzoli, $55), illustrates the tastemaker’s unique lens, through interiors that are at once sophisticated, adventurous and robust with character.

MASTERS OF DESIGN

Get to know the 100 most important designers of the past century with this discerning look at design heroes from across the world. Edited by Stephen Drucker and written by Jennifer Boles, Inspired Design (Vendome, $75) tells the story of decorating in one volume.

PERSONAL SPACE

Creating interiors that are both meaningful and fulfilling are the subject of Paloma Contreras’ Dream Design Live (Abrams, $35). From thinking creatively about your design approach to improving your life, Contreras provides an accessible but beautiful look at the decorating process.

DAZZLING DISPLAY

Former director of old-guard British firm Colefax & Fowler, decorator Veere Grenney specializes in interiors that blend comfort with charm, practicality with beauty. In Veere Grenney: A Point of View (Rizzoli, $65), readers join him on a journey from early influences to the formation of his foundation for imaginative interiors.

FRENCH FANTASY

French decorator Jacques Garcia provides an intimate tour of the 17th-century masterpiece Château de Vilette (Rizzoli, $75) after a painstaking restoration of the historic house and gardens to their original splendor. The spectacular results, depicted through fresh photography, are a museum-like ode to inimitable French craftsmanship.
